

PRODUCT DISRUPTION BRIEF

Suction canisters (updated March 13)

Cardinal supply challenges continue; recovery anticipated by May. Work with your Cardinal representative to address allocation and supply challenges.

Current conditions

Cardinal products continue to experience supply challenges due to a new production machine for CRD canisters.

- CRD canisters (1500ml and 3000ml only) are on allocation and recovery is expected by May 2025
- Flex canisters (1000ml and 3000ml only) are on allocation and recovery is expected by May 2025.

In Dec. 2023, Cardinal issued an urgent medical device correction for certain lots of MEDI-VAC CRD Suction Canister Liner, 1000 mL Suction Canister Liner Kit with 5 mm 1.8 m Tube. Affected lots of Cardinal Health Medi-Vac CRD" Suction Canister Liners 1L may experience loss of suction on low or low intermittent suction settings, due to a misalignment of the liner with the outer hard canister. For additional information and affected lots, refer to the urgent medical device correction notification.

Mitigation strategy

Work with your Cardinal representative to address allocation and product supply challenges; Cardinal maintains an Emergency Stock for acute supply situations.

Medical suction and the management of collected fluids are essential and ubiquitous activities for care of patients across the care continuum. As medical suction and fluid management technology have rapidly evolved and become available using a wide variety of devices, minor and serious adverse events have occurred without raising a global alert about the risk to patients. Human error, transmission of infection, excessive negative pressure and equipment failure are the most common causes of adverse events.
