Accreditation standards and regulatory requirements are intended to support the delivery of safe, reliable and high-quality care and lay the foundation for continuous accreditation compliance.

This series consists of ten monthly 90-minute webinars providing accreditation and regulatory expectations that promote patient safety and performance excellence. That said, some topics are more challenging to effectively address than others. What is the best way to handle them? Through participation in this virtual series, you will be able to:

- Identify the intent of the focused regulatory/accreditation topic as presented.
- Summarize effectively an organization's current process to meet the intent of the regulatory/accreditation requirements.
- Develop a recommended strategy for successfully mitigating the regulatory/accreditation issue as presented.
- Describe how addressing the regulatory/accreditation issue using a recommended strategy positions an organization for effective and reliable delivery of safe, high quality patient care.

Target audience

Accreditation professionals or those with responsibilities for accreditation and regulatory oversight.
