Advancing performance by managing capital spend

Managing spend on capital equipment is critical to long-term success. With Vizient® capital asset management, a Handle software platform, health systems can plan, procure, manage and dispose of capital assets. Use it to streamline the capital planning process and produce a dynamic capital budget that enhances productivity and the budget creation process. Gain real-time visibility into your capital equipment fleet and analyze data based on service line, facility, department or cost center.

Capital budgeting

Build data-driven budgets and assess risk using the asset management proprietary scoring algorithm that includes more than 40 customizable data points. The asset management system also improves decision-making and version control while creating stakeholder alignment.

Strategic sourcing

Strategically source multiyear, multiproduct line and multiservice line agreements while building long-term, mutually beneficial relationships with suppliers. Ensure you are negotiating with the parent entity to optimize your buying power. Understand which equipment manufacturers have the biggest presence in your fleets and leverage this information for future purchases.

Fleet analytics and assessment

Use fleet analytics to view product standardization across your organization and identify procurement opportunities while ensuring your fleet data is clean and accurate. The asset management system cleans and analyzes your data so you have the insight and intelligence for easier decision-making on optimal timing for equipment replacement. Capture your current fleet data while normalizing and organizing it by manufacturer, model and more. Your assessment includes:

- Fleet normalization – Provides clean data so all descriptors, makes, models are correctly identified
- Data health check – Identifies gaps and insufficient data
- Ratio analysis – Analyzes equipment ratios and peer benchmarking
