Evolve your supply chain performance

Many organizations are performing supply chain operations as they did 10 years ago, unknowingly inhibiting their ability to execute on all the opportunities available. Supply chain management is undergoing an evolution. A spend management perspective invites us to make the most of each dollar spent.

This live virtual learning series is an introduction for supply chain professionals and their teams to effectively drive forward progress and positively impact patient care and hospital performance. Gain a better understanding of the essential front-line roles within supply chain through expert faculty guidance and interactive discussions.

Our faculty averages over 25 years of health care experience throughout the supply chain continuum. Primary modules will focus on Strategic Sourcing, Purchasing and Logistics, with the critical foundation of purpose. The world of spend management continues to evolve, and this series will help you confidently keep up.

Target audience

We encourage supply chain staff, team leaders and supervisors with less than three (3) years of service in their current role to join. Those that are newly associated, transitioning or have a general interest in supply chain in both the clinical acute and non-acute areas are also welcomed to attend.

Course prerequisite

Connecting to Purpose is a mandatory module to be completed prior to all others
