

University of California Health looks to Vizient’s MedSurg Commit Program to drive systemness, efficiency, and cost savings

University of California Health has been a long-standing participant in the Impact Standardization Program and has demonstrated the ability to move market share and drive standardization across med-surg categories as individual organizations.

Based on the organization’s past success in a committed med-surg solution, Vizient has collaborated with UC Health on an opportunity to join the MedSurg Commit Program to drive systemness through a managed portfolio of highly committed MedSurg agreements.

UC Health experienced success through the Impact Program historically, and has unlocked additional value moving to a highly committed model
